Judge: Hon. Jeffrey S. White

TO PLAINTIFF AND HER ATTORNEY OF RECORD:

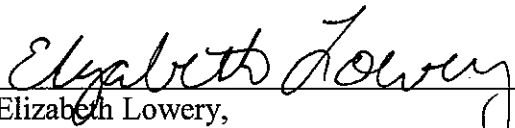

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on July 18, 2008 at 9:00 a.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard in the above-entitled court, located at 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California 94102, Defendants Lawrence Ira Prozan dba Prozan Financial Services and Multi-Financial Securities Corp. (collectively the "Prozan Defendants") will move the Court, and hereby do move the Court, to dismiss this action pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(1) and Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6) because Plaintiff's Second

1 Amended Complaint lacks subject matter jurisdiction and/or fails to state a claim upon which 2 relief can be granted. In the alternative, the Prozan Defendants move the Court to confirm the 3 arbitration Award pursuant to 9 U.S.C § 9, and to enter judgment in conformity therewith. In 4 addition, the Prozan Defendants respectfully request their costs, attorneys' fees and any other
5 further relief the Court deems proper.

6 This Motion is based upon the accompanying Memorandum of Points and Authorities,
7 the Declaration of Elizabeth Lowery, Esq. and Exhibits thereto, and all other evidence and 8 argument presented to the Court.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

Once again, Plaintiff Regina Jimenez is attempting to re-litigate the claims which have already been fully and fairly determined by three neutral arbitrators of the National Association of Securities Dealers, now known as the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA").¹ Pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 12(b)(1) and 12(b)(6), the Prozan Defendants move this Court to dismiss the Second Amended Complaint without further leave to amend, as Jimenez has already been given three such opportunities.² Although she is seeking to vacate the award pursuant to the Federal Arbitration Act, doing so does not confer federal jurisdiction, which is wholly lacking. As discussed in detail below, this Court does not have subject matter jurisdiction as there is no federal question. Moreover, Jimenez has failed to state a claim for which relief can be granted.

Jimenez's conclusory allegations that her brokerage account was mishandled, and that the Arbitrators had an undisclosed relationship with Defendant Prozan's wife, were two of many claims decided by the Arbitrators. Thus those claims are barred by the doctrines of res judicata and collateral estoppel. Jimenez's dissatisfaction with the arbitration Award does not constitute any of the limited grounds necessary to vacate it. Jimenez's Motion to Vacate the Award, which is improperly included as part of her Second Amended Complaint, is both procedurally

¹ On July 30, 2007 the National Association of Securities Dealers consolidated with the New York Stock Exchange Member Regulation to form the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority or "FINRA". For simplicity, this Motion shall only use the term FINRA, even though the entity was known as the NASD during the time period relevant to the underlying arbitration.

² Jimenez filed her original, defective Complaint in this action on June 26, 2007. When Jimenez desired to amend her original Complaint, the parties entered into a Stipulation which on August 4, 2007, was entered as an Order of this Court. That Order allowed Jimenez to file an Amended Complaint on or before August 10, 2007. Jimenez missed that deadline, just as she missed the majority of the deadlines in the underlying arbitration. The parties entered into a second stipulation on or about October 8, 2007 which provided, among other things, that Jimenez would have until October 22, 2007 to file her Amended Complaint. Plaintiff's First Amended Complaint was filed just minutes before the midnight deadline on October 22, 2007. Thus, Jimenez has been provided three opportunities over the last year to sufficiently plead her claims.

defective and is void of the requisite evidentiary support. The Prozan Defendants assert that the procedural and evidentiary defects in Jimenez's Motion to Vacate eliminate the need for a substantive response. If the Court is inclined to consider the substance of that Motion, the Prozan Defendants respectfully seek an Order confirming the arbitration award and entering judgment in conformity therewith. The Prozan Defendants stand ready to present additional evidence in support of such an Order, should the Court wish to consider the substance Jimenez's defective Motion to Vacate. Finally, the Prozan Defendants seek their cost, attorney's fees, and such other relief as the Court deems appropriate.

II. ARGUMENT

A. THIS COURT LACKS SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION OVER JIMENEZ'S CLAIMS, AND JIMENEZ HAS FAILED TO STATE A CLAIM

Jimenez has the burden of proving that this Court has jurisdiction to decide her claims. Thornhill Publ'n Co. v. Gen. Tel. & Elecs. Corp. 594 F.2d 730 233 (9th Cir. 1979). Whether a case "arises under federal law for jurisdiction purposes is tested by the "well-pleaded complaint" rule; Federal courts consider only what necessarily appears in the complaint. Taylor v. Anderson 234 U.S. 74, 75-76; 34 S.Ct. 724, 724-725 (1914). Just as in her two preceding complaints, Jimenez' Second Amended Complaint erroneously reasserts that this Court has jurisdiction in this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331, 9 U.S.C. § 10, and 15 U.S.C. §§ 78a, 78aa et seq. See Second Amended Complaint ("SAC") ¶ 6. In considering this Motion, the Court need not accept as true conclusionary allegations or legal characterizations. Nor need it accept unreasonable inferences or unwarranted deductions of facts. In re: Delorean Motor Co. 991 F.2d 1236, 1240. (6th Cir. 1993).

1. Jimenez Has Not, and Can Not Establish Subject Matter Jurisdiction Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331, 9 U.S.C. § 10, or C.C.P. §§ 1285-1290

District courts have jurisdiction over cases involving a federal question pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331; however, this statute does not confer federal-question jurisdiction. Neither does the Federal Arbitration Act, 9 U.S.C. § 10, which is the statute that provides for vacatur of 1 arbitration awards. It is well established that Jimenez must have an independent basis for

 2 federal jurisdiction for the court to hear a claim under the Federal Arbitration Act. Luong v.
 3 Circuit City Stores, Inc., 368 F.3d 1109, 1111 (9th Cir. 2004). It is irrefutable that Jimenez's
 4 attempt to seek vacatur of the arbitration Award pursuant to California law, C.C.P. §§ 1285–
 5 1290, also does not confer federal jurisdiction.

6 2. Jimenez Has Not, and Can Not Establish Subject Matter Jurisdiction or 7 Plead A Sufficient Claim Pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §§ 78a, 78aa et seq.

8 Although 15 U.S.C. § 78aa can confer jurisdiction over certain claims, it does so only for 9 claims adequately pled. Plaintiff's conclusory statements are insufficient to be the basis for 10 subject matter jurisdiction. The complaint must contain sufficient factual allegations "to raise a 11 right to relief above the speculative level. Bell Atlantic v. Twombly, 550 U.S. ___, 127 S.Ct.
 12 1955, 1965 (2007). "Without some factual allegations in the complaint, it is hard to see how a 13 claimant could satisfy the requirement of providing not only 'fair notice' of the nature of the 14 claim, but also 'grounds' on which the claim rests." Id. at 1965 n.3. Moreover, in considering a
 15 motion to dismiss pursuant to Rule 12(b)(6), the court need not accept the legal conclusions
 16 alleged in the complaint. SmileCare Dental Group v. Delta Dental Plan 88 F.3d 780, 785 n.6
 17 (9th Cir. 1996).

18 Given this Court's prior Order on the prior Motion to Dismiss (the "Order"), it is not
 19 surprising that Jimenez has failed to establish subject matter jurisdiction and/or to adequately 20 plead a claim pursuant to the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. "At the hearing on the 21 Prozan Defendant's first Motion to Dismiss, the Court asked Plaintiff what facts she would 22 allege to state a claim against the Prozan Defendants under the Securities and Exchange Act if 23 given leave to amend. In response, she merely restated the facts she alleged against FINRA's 24 Motions." [Order, p. 4, lns. 18-21.] This Court admonished Plaintiff that if she filed an 25 amended complaint, "her complaint shall be directed against the Prozan Defendants, and not 26 FINRA." [Order, p. 4, lns. 23-26.]

27 The SAC does not heed this Court's admonition. Instead, the majority of the SAC
 28 regurgitates the prior allegations against FINRA, even though Jimenez was not granted leave to

1 amend those claims because FINRA is entitled to arbitral immunity.³ Jimenez can not secure
 2 subject matter jurisdiction, and circumvent this Court's dismissal of her claims against FINRA,
 3 merely by including allegations against FINRA within a complaint in which the Prozan
 4 Defendants are the only defendants.

- 5 • "The NASD violated plaintiff's due process rights by rendering 6 its award of July 24, 2007 without a hearing." [SAC, ¶ 12.]
- 7 • "In addition, NASD and all other defendants concealed from 8 plaintiff the fact that defendant Laurence Prozan's wife, Linda
 9 Drucker, was a high official within NASD . . .". "[SAC, ¶ 12.]⁴
- 10 • "The arbitrators were guilty of misconduct in violation of the 11 Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 when they canceled a 12 hearing in May 2007 . . ." [SAC, ¶ 13.] [Emphasis added.]

13 Moreover, to the extent the SAC contains allegations fraud or mistake, the circumstances
 14 constituting fraud or mistake must be stated "with particularity." F.R.C.P. 9(b); Desaigouda v.
 15 MeyerCORD 223 F.3d 1020, 1022-23 (9th Cir. 2000) (fraud must be pled with a high degree of 16 meticulousness"). The SAC is replete with allegations of fraud, but lacks particularity.

- 17 • "The arbitrators acted by corruption, fraud and undue means and 18 with pro-Prozan partiality, and the improperly refused to hear
 19 evidence at a hearing because they abruptly cancelled the schedule
 20 hearing of May 29 - 31, 2007." [SAC, ¶ 14.]

 23 ³ "[A]rbitrators are immune from civil liability for acts within their jurisdiction arising out of 24 their arbitral functions in contractually agreed upon arbitration hearings." Wasyf, Inc. v. First 25 Boston Corp. 813 F.2d 1579, 1582 (9th Cir. 1987.) Arbitral immunity is essential to protect the 26 decision-maker from undue influence and protect the decision-making process from reprisals by dissatisfied litigants". Id.

27 ⁴ Linda Drucker is employed by the brokerage firm Charles Schwab. While she sits on a 28 FINRA committee, she is not a "high official with the NASD" and there was no such concealment. More importantly, Jimenez has failed to establish that the Prozan Defendants owed her such a duty of disclosure.

- “The arbitrator’s decision of July 24, 2007 was based on a clear error of fact and law as well as fraud and corruption and undue means.” [SAC, ¶ 20.]
- “Another ground for rejection of the arbitration award is that it was perpetuated through fraud.” [SAC, ¶ 23.] [Emphasis added.]

Thus, SAC does not come close to satisfying its pleading requirement. The SAC is a veiled and defective Motion to Vacate as it asserts a single, poorly pled cause of action which is titled as follows:

FIRST CLAIM (CAUSE OF ACTION)

(ACTION UNDER SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934, 15 U.S.C. §§ 78 ET’ SEQ and 9 U.S.C.) SEEKING RELIEF FROM ARBITRATION: MOTION TO VACATE ARBITRATION, ALSO PER CALIF. CCP §§ 1285- 1290.

The Securities and Exchange Act is a complex and substantial body of legislation; claims there under must be specifically articulated, both by section and with supporting facts. The SAC has done neither. In a nonsensical and factually void manner, Jimenez states that “[b]y hindering, delaying and obstructing the making and filing of a hearing in this case, and hindering plaintiff and preventing her from presenting evidence in her case at hearing, defendants NASD and PROZAN are guilty of violating 15 U.S.C. §78 and §78 aa.” [SAC ¶ 38.] While a complaint attacked by Rule 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss does not need detailed factual allegations, a plaintiff’s obligation to provide the “grounds” of her entitlement to relief requires more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do. Papasan v. Allain, 478 U.S. 265, 286, 106 S.Ct. 2932 (1986) (on a motion to dismiss, courts “are not bound to accept as true a legal conclusion couched as a factual allegation.”)

The SAC asserts the Prozan Defendants are subject to suit under 15 U.S.C. § 78aa because “defendants violated the rules and regulations not only as to how they handled plaintiff’s finances and investments, but also by the manner in which they manipulated and corrupted the NASD arbitration process and concealed the fact that Prozan’s wife was a high official and a 'controlling' official in the NASD." [SAC ¶ 11.] A complaint must include the "operative facts" on which a claim is based. Lucien v. Preiner 967 F.2d 166, 1168 (7th Cir. 1992) (conclusory allegation that defendant "lied", without stating what those lies were, was not sufficient to state a claim). Even if this Court determines that it has subject matter jurisdiction, the claims were already determined by the FINRA Arbitrators and thus must be dismissed pursuant to the doctrines of collateral estoppel and res judicata as explained further below, and evidence by Declaration of Elizabeth ("Lowery Decl.") attached hereto.

B. JIMENEZ'S MOTION TO VACATE IS DEFECTIVE

Arbitration awards are immune from judicial review in proceedings to challenge or enforce the award unless the specific grounds for vacatur exist. Moncharsh v. Heily & Blase, 3 Cal. 4th 1, at 12-13 (1992). In recognition of this fact, Jimenez has asserted a Motion to Vacate. That Motion, however, is defective. Since a proper Motion has been presented to this Court, or served upon Defendants within the three months after service of the arbitration Award as 9 U.S.C. § 12 requires, the arbitration Award must stand.

Plaintiff's attempt to file both her SAC and the Motion to Vacate ("MTV") as one document is improper, and its defects warrant its immediate dismissal. The Prozan Defendants strongly urge this Court to determine that no such Motion has been filed. Under the Federal Arbitration Act ("FAA") '[a]ny application to the court hereunder shall be made and heard in the manner provided by law for making and hearing motions.' 9 U.S.C. § 6. Civil L.R. 7-2 required Jimenez's MTV to be noticed on the motion calendar not less than 35 days after service of the motion, that the MTV contain the noticed date and time of the hearing on the MTV, and that the MTV be accompanied by a proposed order. More importantly, Jimenez's SAC fails to comply with Civil L.R. 7-2(d) which requires that "[E]ach motion must be accompanied by affidavits or declarations pursuant to Civil L.R. 7-5"; Civil L.R. 7-5(a) requires that "factual contentions made in support of or in opposition to any motion must be support by an affidavit or declaration and by appropriate references to the record." Jimenez's MTV fails to comply with each of the foregoing requirements.

Jimenez, as the party challenging the Award, not only should have filed a proper and independent MTV, it was required to provide the Court with all matters that it desires the Court to consider in support of that Motion. Health Servs. Mgmt. Corp. v. Hughes, 975 F.2d 1253, 1258 (7th Cir. 1992). "The burden on a plaintiff for vacation of an arbitration award due to evident partiality is 'heavy,' and the plaintiff must establish by specific facts that indicate improper motives on the part of an arbitrator. The alleged partiality must be direct, defiant and capable of demonstration rather than remote, uncertain and speculative." Gianelli Money Purchase Plan & Trust v. ADM Investor Servs., Inc. 146 F.3d 1309, 1312 (11th Cir. 1998) (citations omitted). Jimenez's MTV not only fails to attach the arbitration Award it seeks to vacate, it is completely void of any evidentiary support. Perhaps this is because a cursory review of the Award, attached as Exhibit 1 to the Lowery Decl.), directly refutes most, if not all, of the allegations in Jimenez's SAC. Jimenez's dissatisfaction of the Award is not evidence that the process was unfair or that the Arbitrators exceeded their powers.⁵

Since Jimenez, as the moving party has the burden of proof, and Jimenez has failed to provide any evidence in support of her MTV, it must fail and no evidence should be required to defeat its meritless allegations.⁶ Section 9 of the FAA provides that where a party to an arbitration applies to a court for an order to confirm an arbitration award, "the court must grant such an order unless the award is vacated, modified or corrected as prescribed in section 10 and

⁵ California's Supreme Court held that arbitrators can not only grant relief that could be awarded by a court, but that they also enjoy the authority to fashion relief they consider just and fair unless there is an express restriction on their powers. Advanced Micro Devices v. Intel Corp., 9 Cal.4th 362, 383-384 (1994). In the Jimenez arbitration, there was no restriction of the arbitrators' powers..

⁶ The facts of this instant action are strikingly similar to those in Pfannenstiel. Pfannenstiel was a brokerage firm customer who, like Jimenez, was dissatisfied with a FINRA arbitration award, and who sought to vacate the award because he believed the arbitration process was unfair and wrongful. Pfannenstiel v. Merrill 477 F.3d 1155, 1157 (10th Cir. 2007). The court recognized that Pfannenstiel's claim was "little more than a veiled attack on the decision rendered against him by the arbitration panel" and declined to vacate the arbitration award. This Court should reach the same conclusion if it decides to substantively consider Jimenez' defective Motion to Vacate.

1 11 of this title" 9 U.S.C. § 9. Thus, to the extent this Court is willing to consider Jimenez's
 2 MTV, an order confirming the arbitration Award is warranted.⁷

3 Similarly, Jimenez has failed to comply with California's requirements to vacate an 4 arbitration award. California Code of Civil Procedure § 1285.4 requires that a Petition to 5 Vacate an Award include copies of the arbitration agreement and the award, or that the Petition
 6 set forth the substance of each. In addition, it requires that such a Petition be served and filed
 7 not later than 100 days after the date of service of a signed copy of the award. (C.C.P. § 1288.)
 8 Jimenez has failed to file and serve a proper Petition pursuant to this statute on or before 9 November 1, 2007, which is 100 days after the July 24, 2007 Award was served.

10 C. JIMENEZ IS NOT ENTITLED TO RE-LITIGATE THE CLAIMS
 11 DECIDED IN ARBITRATION

12 Jimenez's SAC is an untimely and improper attempt to re-assert the same allegations
 13 that were already decided by the Arbitrators; i.e. that the Prozan Defendants mishandled her 14 brokerage account. This fact is established by the arbitration Award attached at Exhibit 1 to 15 Lowery Decl. According to the Ninth Circuit, Plaintiff is precluded under res judicata and 16 collateral estoppel from bringing claims and issues which have already been decided. Clark v.
 17 Bear Stearns & Co, Inc., 966 F.2d 1318 (1992) citing C.D. Anderson & Co., Inc. v. Lemos, 832

 19
 20
 21
 22
 23
 24
 25 ⁷ If this Court is inclined to consider the substance of the MTV despite both its procedural and 26 evidentiary defects, and is not yet persuaded that confirmation of the arbitration Award is 27 warranted, the Prozan Defendants respectfully request the opportunity to submit a further, more 28 detailed Opposition thereto, which will be replete with citations to the underlying arbitration record supporting the fact that the Arbitrators were justified in dismissing Jimenez's claims with prejudice.

1 F.2d 1097, 1100 (9th Cir. 1987) (Arbitration awards can have res judicata or collateral estoppel
2 effect.)⁸ Moreover, Federal courts to not allow “claim splitting.”⁹

3 In C.D. Anderson & Co., the Court stated that “[R]es judicata ‘bars all grounds for 4 recovery which could have been asserted, whether they were or not, in a prior suit between the 5 same parties . . . on the same cause of action.’” Id. at 1100. Here, Jimenez seeks to assert the 6 claims based on the same exact facts which have already been litigated and decided upon before
7 FINRA. Therefore, Jimenez is barred from asserting her claims again before this Court.

8 Similarly, California courts have held an arbitration award bars re-litigation of matters
9 heard or that could have been heard in the arbitration proceeding. Thibodeau v. Crum, 4
10 Cal.App.4th 749, 755 (1992). Since Jimenez has already received a final determination of her
11 claims in the Arbitration, this Court should not allow her to re-litigate her claims in this forum.
12 In arbitration, “the parties do not get to appeal an adverse decision.” Saika v. Gold, 49
13 Cal.App.4th 1074, 1076 (1996). That is precisely what Jimenez is trying to do by filing her 14 SAC.

15 In the instant case, Jimenez expressly agreed that the Arbitrators were empowered to 16 decide all issues submitted to them. On June 21, 2005, Plaintiff executed a Uniform Submission
17 Agreement. See Lowery Decl., Exhibit 2.

19
20
21 ⁸ In C.D. Anderson, appellant C. D. Anderson & Co. appealed the District Court’s grant of 22 summary judgment in favor of appellee Michael A. Lemos. Id. at 1098. The District Court held 23 that C.D. Anderson’s federal claims were barred by an award rendered by the National 24 Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. (now known as FINRA.). Id. The Ninth Circuit affirmed
25 the District Court’s holding, stating that “an arbitration decisions can have res judicata or 26 collateral estoppel effect, even if the underlying claim involves the federal securities laws.” Id.
27 at 1099-1100.

28 ⁹ “It is well-settled that a plaintiff may ‘not use the tactic of filing two substantially identical complaints to expand the procedural rights she would have otherwise enjoyed.’” Harstel Springs Ranch of Colo., Inc. v. Bluegreen Corp., 296 F.3d 982, 990 (10th Cir. 2002) (quoting Walton v.
Eaton Corp., 563 F.2d 66, 71 (3d Cir. 1977). “In particular, ‘the court must [e]nsure that the plaintiff does not use the incorrect procedure of filing duplicative complaints for the purpose of circumventing the rules pertaining to the amendment of complaints.’” Id.

By signing the Uniform Submission Agreement, Plaintiff agreed to comply with the NASD Code of Arbitration Procedure (the "Code.") The Code states that "unless the applicable law directs otherwise, all awards rendered pursuant to this Code shall be deemed final and not subject to review or appeal." NASD Code of Arbitration Procedure Rule 10330(b). [Emphasis added.] The Prozan Defendants urge this Court to give the parties the full and final resolution they contracted to receive.

III. CONCLUSION

This Court does not have jurisdiction over this Jimenez's claims. Even if it did, Jimenez's Second Amended Complaint fails to state a claim for which relief can be granted. To the extent any claims are arguably pled, they are against FINRA and barred by this Court's prior Order, and/or barred by the arbitration Award via the doctrines of res judicata and collateral estoppel. For these reasons, the Prozan Defendants request that this Court dismiss Plaintiff's Second Amended Complaint without further leave to amend. There is no proper or timely Motion to Vacate the arbitration award pending. But to this extent this Court may consider the substance of Plaintiff's Motion to Vacate, the Prozan Defendants respectfully request that the arbitration Award be confirmed, and judgment entered in conformity therewith. If this Court deems such an Order is premature, the Prozan Defendants request in the alternative that they be provided a further opportunity to present evidence in support of the Award's confirmation. Finally, the Prozan Defendants respectfully seek their costs and fees incurred in this matter, and such other relief as this Court may deem appropriate.
